When Waitman T. Willey came to Morgantown over seventy years ago, it had a population of a few hundred; the houses were few and far between, and a whole block of town lots could be had for a mere bagatelle. At that time there was nothing to influence the new comer to locate one place rather than another, except his own inclination and preference. Under these circumstances, and with an area of several square miles to select at his will, Senator Willey chose that spot which, to successive generations, has become famous for its extreme beauty. He chose it, not because of its value as a business location, but because of its unequalled charms as a HOMESITE. He lived there for nearly two-thirds of a century, and never once regretted his choice.

That spot is now known as Chancery Hill. It has lost none of its pristine beauty, but has gained the additional advantage of being right on the main street of a city of twelve thousand population, and within three blocks of the Post Office.

James B. Mackie, who for a number of years was principal comedian of the Hoyt farces and later starred in "Grimes' Cellar Door," scored such a success last season in the part of "Toby" the transformed donkey in "The Everlasting Devil's Auction," that he has been re-engaged for this part by Manager Chas. H. Yale for the twenty-second edition of this famous attraction.

When Charles H. Yale originally produced his famous spectacle the "Devil's Auction," it was called "The Devil's Auction" or "The Golden Branch." After a few years Manager Yale christened it "The New Devil's Auction." A few more and it was known as "The Fewer Devil's Auction." Then came "The Newest Devil's Auction. Then "Forever Devil's Auction." Then again "The Forever and Ever Devil's Auction" and finally upon reaching the 20th edition it became "The Everlasting Devil's Auction" and as it remains "Everlasting" upon this its twenty-second edition, it seems as if Manager Yela has reached the limit of its titles.

Madame Alice Phasey has been specially engaged by Charles H. Yale to illustrate and direct several new ballets that will be made special features in the twenty-second annual tour of the "Everlasting Devil's Auction." They will include among others, an European novelty and also a royal sextette of lady dancers direct from the Alhambra Theatre, London, England.

A Strong attraction that will appear here soon is Sweet Clover.

A Royal Slave is another good show booked for the local theatre.

All hardware, fire arms, etc., used on this stage is from Morgantown Hardware-Company, Main street.

All tickets Reserved must be called for by 7:30 the evening of the performance or they will be sold.

All Bric-a-brac china, etc., used on this stage from H. S. Hayes & Co., jewellers, Main street.

Children in arms not admitted to the theatre. This rule is made to prevent annoyance to patrons of the house.
