POOR BLIND ROGERS.

LESSON 26.

POOR old Rogers is quite blind. He cannot see the flowers, nor the trees, nor the blessed light of the sun. Once he had eyes as bright as yours, and ran about where he liked; but now his eyes are fast closed; and, if he moves from his chair, he is forced to grope with his hands, in order to find his way. And, what makes his case still more sad, he is very poor. For now he cannot see, he can work no longer for his bread; and he would be quite starved if he did not beg, day by day.

He has a little dog that leads him by a string, and he is very kind to it, and always takes care to let it share his food. Poor old Rogers, every one is glad to be able to help him, for all must feel how sad it is to be blind. See how kindly Kitty is helping him over the wooden bridge across the river. He is going to the great house on the other side. For the people there are very good to him; and every week he has a hot dinner in the kitchen. And Bob, his dog, has plenty of scraps. I think Bob knows where he is going, and seems rather in a hurry to get there.

SWIFT'S COMBINATION TOY BLOCKS!

Attachable to each other on all their Surfaces.

THE LATEST! THE CHEAPEST!! AND THE BEST!!!
FOR HOME AMUSEMENT,

Kindergarten Instruction, Exhibition of Geometrical Figures and Drawing Exercises in Schools, Academies, &c.

THESSE BLOCKS are cut with mathematical precision, from fine maple wood. They are neatly grooved at right angles with very fine saw cuts on all their surfaces, which gives them the attractive and massive appearance of stone masonry; also, serving their special purpose, with the fastenings, of making almost endless varieties of correct architectural figures, in the form of all kinds of Buildings, besides Bridges, Boats, Monuments, Forts, Fences, Furniture, Implements, and hundreds of other interesting objects, of such beautiful proportion of form, and ornamental features, as to attract the notice and receive the approval of children, parents, and teachers.
